He was then put out of training.

DENMARK was a Stallion at Mr. John Crowther's, at Middleton-Tyas, near Richmond, Yorkſhire, in 1774, &c. at 5gs and 5s.; in 1777, 1778, 1779, and 1780, at Bennington, Herts, at 10gs and 5s.—He was 15 hands 2 inches high, had great power, and good action. He was ſire of the Duke of Northumberland's Young Denmark, that won the King's Plate at Guildford, 12ſt. when only four years old, in 1785.—He ſerved but few Mares.

ECLIPSE,

(A CHESNUT HORSE—FOALED during the great Eclipſe that happened in the year 1764, from which he took his Name,)

Bred by His R. H. WILLIAM Duke of CUMBERLAND; and purchaſed after His Royal Highneſs's deceaſe, by Mr. WILLIAM WILDMAN, who afterwards ſold him to DENNIS O'KELLY, Eſq.

ECLIPSE was got by Marſk, out of Spilletta.

At Epſom, May 3, 1769, ECLIPSE, (the firſt time of his ſtarting) won 50l. for horſes that never won 30l. (matches excepted); five-year olds, 8ſt. and ſix-year olds, 9ſt. 3lb. four-mile heats, beating Mr. Forteſque's Gower, by Sweepſtakes, 5 years old; Mr. Caſtle's Chance, by Young Cade, 6 years old; Mr. Jenning's Trial, by Blank, 5 years old; and Mr. Quick's Plume, by Feather, 5 years old:—At ſtarting, 4 to 1 on Eclipſe; and what is remarkable, that though the horſes were all together at the Three-mile Poſt, the ſecond heat, where Eclipſe, from the flouriſh of the whip, made his run, when he was pulled for the whole of the laſt mile, with all the ſtrength that his rider, John Oakley, was maſter of, notwithſtanding which, he diſtanced all the four.—Mr. O'Kelly ſported much money on this race;—ſometime previous to which, he had taken the odds to a very large amount, and on the day of running, he bet even money, and 5 and 6 to 4 that he poſted the horſes, and when called on to declare, he ſaid "Eclipſe firſt, and the reſt in no place." At Aſcot Heath, May 29, He won 50l. for five-year olds, 9ſt. 3lb. two-mile heats, beating Mr. Fetty-place's Cream de Barbade, by Snap:—8 to 1 on Eclipſe. At Wincheſter, June 13, He won the King's Plate for ſix-year olds, 12ſt. (though only five years old) beating Mr. Turnor's Slouch, by Blank, (who had won, the ſame year, the King's Plate at Guildford); the Duke of Grafton's Chigger, by Slouch; Mr. Gott's Juba, by Regulus; and diſtanced the firſt heat, Mr. O'Kelly's Caliban, by Brilliant; and Mr. Bailey's Clanville:—5 to 4 againſt Eclipſe, 2 and 3 to 1 againſt Caliban, and 5 to 1 againſt Slouch; after the heat, 10 to 1 on Eclipſe.—On the 15th, ſame place, He walked over for 50l. weight for age. At Salisbury, June 28, He walked over for the King's Plate, for ſix-year olds, 12ſt.—And on the next day, He won the City Silver Bowl, (with 30gs added) free for any horſe, 10ſt. beating Mr. Fettyplace's Sulphur, aged; and Mr. Taylor's Foreſter, 6 years old, who was diſtanced the firſt heat:—10 to 1 on Eclipſe. At Canterbury, July 25, He walked over for the King's Plate, for ſix-year olds, 12ſt. At Lewes, July 27, He won the King's Plate for ſix-year olds, 12ſt. beating Mr. Strode's Kingſton, by Sampſon (who won the 50l. the day following):—10 to 1 on Eclipſe. And at Lichfield, September 19, He won the King's Plate for five-year olds, 8ſt. 7lb. three-mile heats, beating Mr. Freeth's Tardy, by Matchleſs:—20 to 1 on Eclipſe.

At Newmarket Firſt Spring Meeting, (Tueſday, April 17) 1770, ECLIPSE beat Mr. Wentworth's Bucephalus, by Regulus, (ſame age) 8ſt. 7lb. each, B. C.—Mr. Wildman ſtaked 600gs to 400gs:—6 to 4 on Eclipſe:—On Thurſday, April 19, ECLIPSE, (then Mr. O'Kelly's) won the King's Plate, 12ſt. heats, R. C. beating Mr. Strode's Penſioner, by Matchleſs, who was third and diſtanced; Mr. Fenwick's (late Mr. Bland's) Diana, was ſecond, and the Duke of Grafton's Chigger, fourth, and drawn:—At ſtarting, 10 to 1 on Eclipſe; after the heat, large ſums were bet, at 6 and 7 to 4 that he diſtanced Penſioner, which he did with great eaſe. At Guildford, June 5, He walked over for the King's Plate, 12ſt. At Nottingham, July 3, He walked over for the King's Plate, 12ſt. At York, Auguſt 20, He walked over for the King's Plate, 12ſt.—And at the ſame Meeting, (Auguſt 23) He won the Subſcription-Purſe of 319l. 10s. (Mr. O'Kelly paid 50gs entrance) for ſix-year olds, 8ſt. 7lb. and aged, 9ſt. four miles, beating Mr. Wentworth's Tortoiſe, aged; and Sir C. Bunbury's Bellario, aged:—At ſtarting, 20 to 1 on Eclipſe, and in running, 100 to 1 he won:—Eclipſe took the lead at ſtarting, and when he had run two miles, was above a diſtance before his antagoniſts, and won with uncommon eaſe:—7 to 4 Tortoiſe againſt Bellario. At Lincoln, September 3, He walked over for the King's Plate, 12ſt. At Newmarket, October 3, He won the 150gs and upwards, (paying 100gs entrance) for ſix-year olds, 8ſt. 10lb. and aged, 9ſt. 2lb. B. C. beating Sir C. Bunbury's Corſican, by Swiſs, 5 years old:—70 to 1 on Eclipse:—And on the next day, He walked over the Round Course for the King's Plate, 12ſt.—He was then put out of training.

Eclipse won eleven King's Plates, (the weights for ten of which were 12ſt. each) which was one more than was ever won by any horſe in England.—Previous to his running for the King's Plate at Wincheſter, in 1769, Mr. O'Kelly gave Mr. Wildman 650gs for a half ſhare of him; and afterwards bought the other half for 1100gs; and even at that price he certainly was the cheapeſt horſe ever purchaſed. Eclipſe was never beat, and was allowed by all ranks of Sportſmen to be the fleeteſt horſe that ever ran in England, ſince the time of Childers.

M. de St. Bel from his accurate computations, (and with the greateſt probability) ſaid, "that Eclipse, free from all weight, "and galloping at liberty, with his greateſt degree of ſwiftneſs, "would cover an extent of ground of 25 feet, at every complete "action on the gallop; and that he would run nearly 4 miles in "the ſpace of ſix minutes and two ſeconds."

Eclipse covered at Clay-Hill, near Epſom, Surrey, in 1771, at 50gs and one guinea the groom; in 1772, 1773, and 1774, at 25gs and 10s. 6d.; afterwards, by ſubſcription, 40 Mares, (beſides thoſe of his owner) at 30gs and one guinea; in 1779, (not by ſubſcription) at 30gs and one guinea; in 1780, at 20gs and one guinea; in 1781, 1782, 1783, and 1784, he was ſtinted to 50 Mares, (beſides thoſe of his owner) at 20gs and one guinea; in 1785 and 1786, forty Mares, (beſides thoſe of his owner) at 30gs and one guinea; in 1787 and 1788, twenty-five Mares, (beſides thoſe of his owner) at 30gs and one guinea:—After which, Eclipse was advertiſed to cover at the ſame price, at Cannons, Middleſex, to which he was removed from Epſom, in his carriage!—The machine had four wheels; was drawn by two horſes, and the Groom was an inſide paſſenger; and when (like other travellers) he choſe to take a glaſs of gin or anniſeed for himſelf, he was directed to furniſh his old friend Eclipse with a lock of hay, and a drop out of the pail.

Mr. O'Kelly affirmed that he gained by Eclipse 25,000l. and upwards: this was more money than we ever remember to have fallen to the ſhare of any one horſe whatever:—Mr. Fenwick cleared by Match'em, as a Stallion, upwards of 17,000l.; and Mr. Martindale of St. James's Street, London, by Regulus only 1000l.

Eclipse died at Cannons, Middleſex, on Saturday the 28th of February, 1789, aged 25.—His Hiſtory, were it written, would reſemble that of many Heroes; he won many battles, and ruined many individuals; yet—according to the Chriſtian belief—he is not gone to anſwer for his miſdeeds.

ECLIPSE was short in the forehand, and high in the hips, which gave a kind of elasticity to his strokes. His heart weighed, when taken out, thirteen pounds! to such an extraordinary weight, he was supposed to owe his natural courage.—At his interment, ale and cake were given, as at that of the Godolphin Arabian.

EPITAPH on ECLIPSE.

Praise to departed worth!—Illustrious STEED!
Not the fam'd Phernicus of Pindar's Ode
O'er thee, ECLIPSE, possess'd transcendent speed,
When by a keen Newmarket Jockey rode.

Tho' from the hoof of Pegasus arose
Inspiring *Hippocrene, a fount divine;
A richer stream superior merit shows,
Thy matchless foot produc'd O'KELLY wine.

True, o'er the tomb in which this Fav'rite lies,
No vaunting boast appears of lineage good;
Yet the Turf Register's bright page defies
The Race of Herod to show better BLOOD.

SPILLETTA, (dam of ECLIPSE) was a Bay Mare, foaled in 1749, and bred by Sir ROBERT EDEN, Bart.—She was got by Regulus, out of Mother Western, vol. 1. page 114.—SPILLETTA, when in training, was the property of His Royal Highness WILLIAM Duke of CUMBERLAND, but started only once; which was at Newmarket in April, 1754, for a 50l. * This country is certainly greatly obliged to the Duke of NORTHUMBERLAND for his endeavours to improve the breed of the Engliſh Horſe. For he ſpared no expenſe whatever in ſending even into the ina Gentleman well known for his extenfive fkill and nice judgment in the peculiar and diftinguifhed points and qualifications neceffary in a Race-Horfe.—Mr. PHILIPPS was fent into Arabia by the Earl of NORTHUMBERLAND, purpofely to feleft and purchafe for his Lordfhip fuch Arabian Horfes and Mares as might appear beft calculated to improve the breed of Horfes in this country*. The BROWN ARABIAN was a private Stallion in Lord Northumberland's Stud until the year 1760, when he ferved Mares at Mr. Leedes's, at 3gs and 5s.;—in 1767, 1768, and feveral years afterwards, at 5gs and 5s.—He was alfo fire of his Lordfhip's Nonfuch, Actæon, and Grizelda; of Mr. Shafto's Mittimus; Mr. Jennings's Ultramarine; Sir John Douglas's Philippo; Mr. Morrifon's Dolly-O! &c.—He ferved very few Mares; notwithftanding which, there was not above two or three of his get, but what were winners.

terior parts of Arabia to procure horfes of the true and genuine Arabian breed, of which, amongft others, the above was one. Much credit is due to the Arabians for the diftinct manner in which they prefer ATTESTATIONS of the genealogy of their Horfes, when they fell them, and thofe Mr. PHILIPPS procured with thofe he purchafed for the Duke. Indeed they preferve the pedigree of their horfes with great care, and for feveral ages back. They know their alliances and all their genealogy; they diftinguifh the races by different names, and divide them into three claffes. The firft is that of the Nobles, the ancient breed, and unadulterated on either fide: the fecond is that of the horfes of the ancient race, but adulterated; and the third is that of the common and inferior kind: the laft they fell at a low price; but thofe of the firft clafs, and even of the fecond, amongft which are found horfes of equal value to the former, are fold extremely dear. They know, by long experience, the race of a horfe by his appearance: they can tell the name, the furname, the colour, and the mark properly belonging to each. When they are not poffeffed of Stallions of the Noble Race themfelves, for their Mares, they borrow from their neighbours, paying a proper price as with us, and receive a written atteftation of the whole. In this atteftation is contained the name of the horfe and the mare, and their refpective genealogies. When the mare has produced her foal, new witneffes are called, and a new attefta ion is figned, in which are defcribed the mark of the foal, and the day noted when it was brought forth. Thefe atteftations increafe the value of the horfe; and they are given to the perfon who buys him.

* Mr. PHILIPPS alfo brought into England with the BROWN ARABIAN, another Horfe, which was diftinguifhed in Lord NORTHUMBERLAND's Stud by "THE GOLDEN ARABIAN." He was fire of his Lordfhip's Aurora, Ermine, Jew, and a few others.

The SNIP MARE, (dam of ARIADNE) was a Bay, foaled in 1748, and bred by Sir JOHN MOORE.—She never raced, but was a Brood-Mare in Lord NORTHUMBERLAND's Stud, and was alſo the dam of

* On Monday evening and Tueſday morning, a very heavy and ſevere rain fell, which occaſioned the whole of the Courſe to be remarkably ſoft, and for about fifty yards in the Baſon, coming down to the turn, they ran nearly and ſometimes above the horſes' knees in water, and for about two diſtances, in going from and returning to the Knaveſmire Wood, the Courſe was particularly ſoft and heavy:—Leonard Jewiſon alſo rode on the ſame day, previouſly to the Plate, Sir Walter Vavaſour's Lion, (late Patroclus) againſt Mr. Gee's Fiddler, (late Spare-Rib) rode by John Cade, 8ſt. 7lb. each, four miles, for 100gs; which was won by Fiddler, who took the lead, and was never headed.—Therefore Mr. Jewiſon, after riding three heats, obſerved, that, "He had had ſo much dirt thrown in his face that day, it was then high time he ſhould begin to return the compliment;"—alluding to his having run two flattered heats for the Plate; and that he ſhould then take the lead for the third heat, which he was not only confident of winning, but alſo the fourth. * Though the Race-Ground at Carliſle was in the fineſt condition imaginable, (owing to the uncommonly temperate ſeaſon) it was remarkable that not one of the four horſes came off the ground without an accident: The firſt happened to Blemiſh in running the ſecond mile of the ſecond heat, he ſlipped ſeveral yards, and had nearly loſt his rider; Method, in the next mile, tumbled topſy turvy, and diſlocated the cup of her knee; and in the ſame mile near the Starting-Poſt, an innkeeper attempting to ſave his boy who was croſſing the road, run againſt Speculator, and threw him down, the rider was thrown a great diſtance from the horſe, but not dangerouſly hurt, and the innkeeper ſtill leſs. The laſt accident was in running the fourth mile, when Perdita run on the inſide of a poſt, and it was with great difficulty that ſhe could return to ſave her diſtance, though ſhe beat Blemiſh eaſily the next heat. Juſt at the concluſion of theſe misfortunes, poor puſs was diſturbed by her mortal enemy, a greyhound, that run in her view for a full mile, to the great diverſion of the people upon the Race-Ground; but at laſt ſhe gave him the ſlip, and got off.

ON THE DEATH OF OLD MARSK,

Which happened in JULY, 1770, in his 29th year.

YE Sportſmen, for awhile refrain your mirth;
OLD MARSK is dead! conſign'd to peaceful earth!
The King of Horſes now, alas! is gone,
Sire of Eclipſe, who ne'er was beat by one.
Yet, tho' your cheeks you may bedew, 'tis vain,
Since MARSK muſt ceaſe to trip it o'er the plain.
His brilliant feats the Noblemen record,
For high in favour was he with each Lord:
His well-deſcended Blood the Sportſmen trace*,
And ſound his fame in each conteſted race.
The STOCK of MARSK we circumſpectly view,
Announce that they were Runners SWIFT and TRUE.
Say, ſhall I mention Shark and Masquerade,
Whoſe great pre-eminence was oft diſplay'd?
Or ſhall Hephestion crown my humble lays?
Or ſhall I tell of Sphynx and Pontac's praiſe?
Salopian and Pretender ſhall I name?
Or ſpeak of Honest Kitt and Transit's fame?
Shall brave Leviathan adorn my theme?
For he was juſtly held in high eſteem.
Revenge and Cæsar both occur to mind,
And Flying Gib went briſkly as the wind.
There's Jack of Hilton, too, and John-a-Nokes,
Have often pleas'd, but ſeldom griev'd the folks.
Let me not paſs Young Marsk in ſilence o'er,
Tho' once he ſtarted only, and no more.
Misfortune check'd him in his ſwift career,
Or from Competitors he'd nought to fear.
Fain would I now attempt the whole detail,
But well I know my numbers ſoon would fail;
With Temp'rance, therefore, I ſhall paſs the reſt,
And briefly ſay, that Stripling ſtood the teſt.
Here ſhould my Muſe preſume to moraliſe,
What ſcope for deep reflection would ariſe!
Might ſhe not ſay that Life is but a Race,
And that 'tis finiſh'd in a little ſpace?
Thouſands, no doubt, will one day wiſh to lie
As ſafe as MARSK, beneath an angry ſky.

The following defcription of ADONIS's Horfe from SHAKSPEARE, it is prefumed, will not here appear improper; though not altogether calculated for the RACE-HORSE:

" Round hoofed, fhort jointed, fetlocks fhag and long,
" Broad breaft, full eyes, fmall head, and noftrils wide,
" High creft, fhort ears, ftrait legs, and paffing ftrong,
" Thin mane, thick tail, broad buttocks, tender hide."

CAMERARIUS's DESCRIPTION OF THE HORSE.

A perfect Horfe is an aſſemblage of the excellencies of many animals:—He ſhould poſſeſs three parts like a Woman; an expanded cheſt, protuberant hips, and a long mane:—In three things he ſhould reſemble a Lion; in ferocity of countenance, in fortitude, and irreſiſtible impetuoſity:—He muſt have three things appertaining to a Sheep; the noſe, gentleneſs, and patience:—Three of a Mule; ſtrength, perſeverance, and ſureneſs of foot:—Three of a Deer; head, legs, and ſkin:—Three of a Wolf; throat, neck, and hearing:—Three of a Fox; ears, tail, and rate, or trot:—Three of a Serpent; memory, ſight, and flexibility:—And three of a Hare; running, walking*, and pertinacity.

FURTHER DESCRIPTIONS:

The Horſe is, in temperament, generous and proud;—in frame, vigorous and powerful:—He is a gregarious and ſocial animal:—When they aſſemble in herds of five or ſix hundred, whilſt grazing or ſleeping, they have conſtantly a ſentinel on the watch:—When this vedette perceives a human figure, he approaches confidently, both to examine and intimidate him:—If the man advances, he ſnorts, as a ſignal of alarm, upon which the herd inſtantly eſcape; the vigilant ſentinel bringing up the rear, and biting thoſe which are hindmoſt:—He calls by neighing, and fights by kicking and biting:—The wild aſs is his inveterate foe:—He rolls when he ſweats:—He eats graſs cloſer than the ox, and in dunging diſſeminates the ſeeds that remain undigeſted; he never vomits:—He is peculiarly hurt, externally, by a ſtroke upon the ear, or on the ſtifle; by being caught by the noſe in barnacles, and by rubbing his teeth with greaſe:—He is injured, internally, by the herbs Padus, Phalandria, Cruculio, and Canops; but devours Hemlock without annoyance:—The Mare goes with Foal three hundred and thirty-ſeven days:—The longer animals are in geſtation, and vegetables in their progreſs to maturity, the more noble is their kind:—A rapid growth in animals, or vegetables, makes no proviſion for ſolidity or duration.

Epic, Lyric, as well as Didactic Authors of every civilized nation, are diffuſive in their deſcription of the noble animal "The Horſe."—A few, which more immediately recur are—in the Book of Job (certainly a metrical compoſition) thus ſublimely pourtrayed:—

* The walking of a Partridge would have been a more apt ſimilitude, being in its air and gait the moſt ſtately and graceful of all animals.

" Haſt thou given the Horſe ſtrength? haſt thou clothed his neck with thunder? Canſt thou make him afraid as a graſshopper? the glory of his noſtrils is terrible.

" He paweth in the valley, and rejoiceth in his ſtrength; he goeth on to meet the armed men.

" He mocketh at fear, and is not affrighted; neither turneth he back from the ſword.

" The quiver rattleth againſt him, the glittering ſpear and the ſhield *."

" He ſwalloweth the ground with fierceneſs and rage; neither believeth he that it is the ſound of the trumpet.

" He ſaith among the trumpets, ha! ha! and he ſmelleth the battle afar off, the thunder of the captains and the ſhouting."

And POPE thus again finely delineates him in his Windſor Foreſt:

" Th' impatient courſer pants in every vein,
" And, pawing, ſeems to beat the diſtant plain;
" Hills, dales, and floods appear already croſt,
" And, ere he ſtarts, a thouſand ſteps are loſt."

* How very far ſhort in elevation of language and beauty of imagery has Horace deſcribed this animal:

" Jam Fulgor armorum fugaces
" Terret Equos:" .....

" While the ſtrong ſplendours of the Sword affright
" The flying ſteeds:" .....
